

PROFESSOR BRIAN GIBSON

Brian Gibson is a Professor of Accounting at The University of New England in Armidale, NSW, Australia. He has been an academic for over 25 years and has extensive teaching experiences that include accounting courses and entrepreneurial and small business finance courses at the University of Newcastle, the University of New South Wales, Murdoch University and the University of New England. He also has extensive experience in curriculum development and administration in Universities. Prior to, and for some time concurrently with, his University appointments, Brian operated an accounting and management consulting practice in the Newcastle area. Brian's major research interests are associated with entrepreneurship and small firm financial management. He has contributed to two books on small firm finance related issues and has published in the Journal of Small Business Management, Small Business Economics, Small Enterprise Research, Australian Tax Forum, The Journal of Small Business Finance, Contemporary Accounting Research, and Accounting and Business Research as well as having an extensive conference and other publications list. Brian is a former editor of Small Enterprise Research, a member of the editorial board for the journals: International Journal of Entrepreneurship and Small Business; Journal of Small Business Management; and Journal of Enterprising Communities and is a Past President and Wilford White Fellow of the International Council for Small Business.