

Rosemarie Dawson has more than 20 years experience in management and in working with the non-profit sector. In her own small business, which specialises in managing not-for-profit organisations, she is directly responsible for key client management, strategic direction, government relations, treasury and regulatory compliance. Clients include industry, trade and professional organisations and charitable trusts. Through her client relations Rosemarie has a thorough knowledge of the issues faced by small and medium enterprises and experience in providing advice to those companies. Key skills Rosemarie brings to her role on the SEAANZ International Committee include treasury and event management.
